

Grant Fonda
Composer, JIMMY

Grant Fonda is a Los Angeles-based composer known for his diversely colorful and innovative music across film, television, and live productions. His consistently tuneful work spans major star-studded projects like At Midnight (Disney+ & Hulu), Dating & New York, and Amazon's hit Exmas. He recently penned the score for the highly-anticipated JIMMY, starring KJ Apa as Hollywood legend Jimmy Stewart, and his score for the Emmy-winning Play Like a Girl: The House That Rob Built about the underdog Lady Griz basketball team has garnered critical acclaim for its ingenuity. He is also the composer for Crossway's Symphony of Scripture (2027), boasting nearly 100 hours of original music.

Grant brings a unique blend of classical, rock, and eclectic influences to his compositions. His contributions to Oscar, Grammy, and Dove-nominated works reflect his versatility and skill in both traditional orchestration and contemporary arrangements. His arranging work also recently hit the top of the Billboard charts.

Grant's music is celebrated for its originality, emotional depth, and seamless collaboration with artists from every corner of the industry.